

Candidate For Prosecutor.

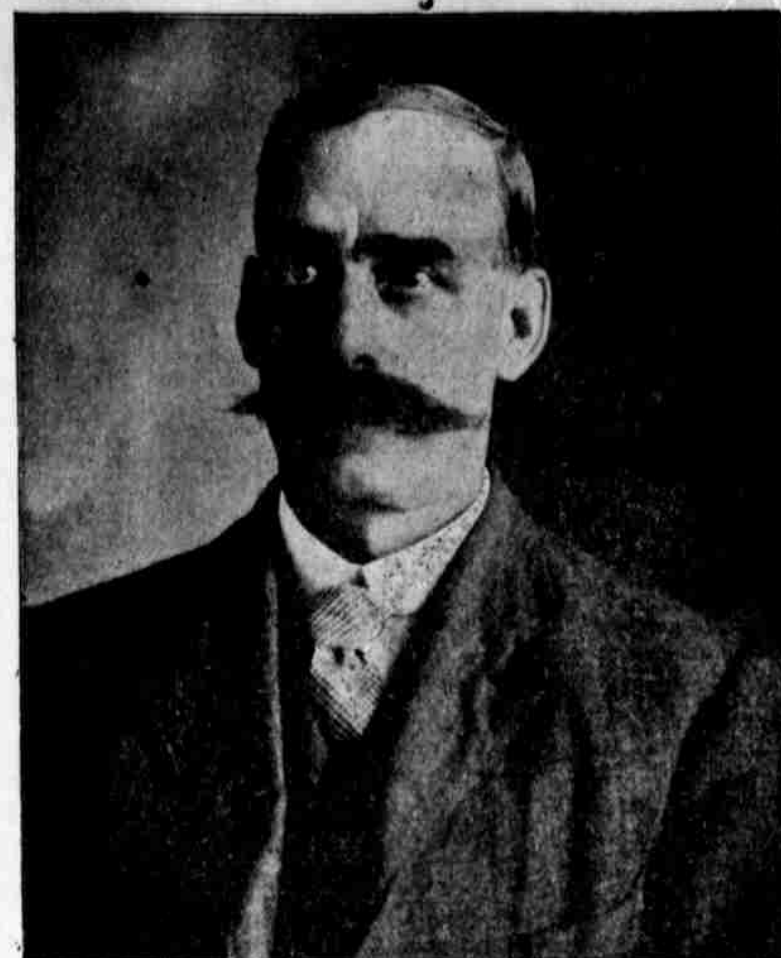

CHARLES L. JUSTICE

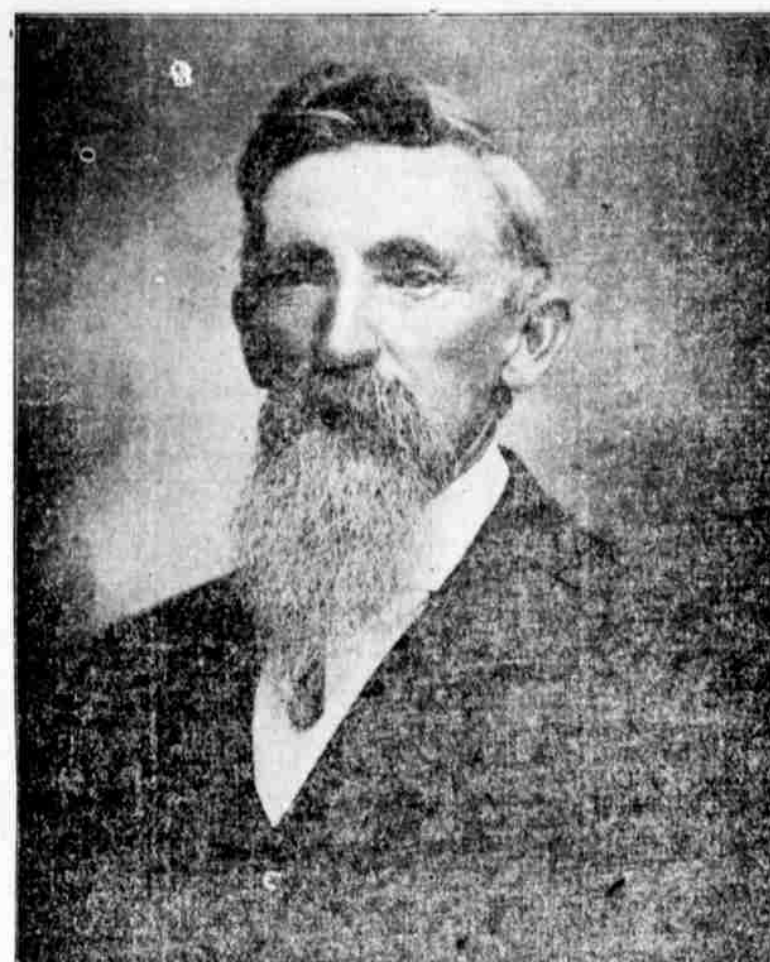

The above is a striking likeness of Charles L. Justice, who was the unanimous choice of the Democrats of the county for prosecuting attorney. He is one of the most promising and most active young lawyers at the Marion bar of which he has been a member for several years. In private practice he has been entrusted with a number of very important cases, among them being the settlement of the affairs of the old Marion Manufacturing company. In this work he has been very successful, having settled up practically all of the business in a manner thoroughly satisfactory to both the stockholders and creditors.

During his first term as prosecuting attorney, he has been called upon to conduct some very important prosecution for crimes committed and to engineer a number of suits in which the taxpayers of the county were vitally interested. In cases which have been tried he has proven thoroughly efficient and competent.

Second Term Candidates For Infirmary Director.

CHARLES B. FREEMAN

GEORGE WEIDEMAIER

George Weidemaier, the other infirmary director who comes before the voters this fall, has served only a part of a full term. During the past year, Samuel Badet, a member of the board of infirmary directors was made superintendent at the county infirmary. This caused a vacancy on the board to be filled by the county commissioners. Mr. Weidemaier having been before the voters for the office at the previous election and having come within a few votes of being elected was considered by the commissioners the logical man for the place and he was selected to fill the vacancy. Since his election by the commissioners, Mr. Weidemaier has been a very valuable member of the board. He has given his best efforts in fulfilling the duties incumbent upon him and has succeeded in his efforts to administer the affairs of the office in a manner which has done justice to all and imposed a hardship upon none. In all of the affairs of the board he has taken an active part and now comes before the people of the county asking that he be elected to the office for a full term.

The voters will make no mistake in returning George Weidemaier and C. B. Freeman to the board of infirmary directors for the coming term.

For infirmary director, the Democratic ticket presents two men for re-election to the board, one of whom is in the strictest sense of the word a candidate for re-election and the other is not. Mr. C. B. Freeman has served one full term upon the board, having been elected at the last county election. He has made a very enviable reputation as an infirmary director and merits the support of the party members and all voters who believe in re-electing the man who, through faithful service for the county, has merited a return to the office which he seeks. During his first term, Mr. Freeman has lent his assistance in properly caring for the unfortunate poor of the county and has at the same time guarded against impositions being practiced upon the taxpayers who are required to pay the bills. His first term in office merits his return for a second term.

DR. ROBERT S. DOMBAUGH

Candidate For Treasurer

The likeness of Dr. Robert S. Dombaugh, presented here, will be recognized by practically every voter in Marion county. Mr. Dombaugh made a most thorough canvass of the entire county for the nomination and he was selected by the voters as the candidate for county treasurer. He has left nothing undone which would add to his chances for the election. Entering in his efforts for the primary election, he has proven equally untiring in his effort for election in the coming battle.

Dr. Dombaugh is a native of the county, he having been born in this city. After his graduation from the local schools he took up the study of medicine and surgery. After completing his education in his chosen profession, he located in Waldo and has resided there ever since. His personality coupled with his ability as a physician won for him a wide circle of friends and a large practice which he has retained until this day.

Mr. Dombaugh is a man of very pleasing address, he numbers his friends by the thousands and has the faculty of holding all of the friends he makes. In a business way he has demonstrated his ability and it is a certainty that he will make good as a servant of the people in the responsible position of treasurer of the county.

A vote for Dr. Dombaugh is a vote for a straightforward, conscientious Democrat who will make an excellent county official.

S. H. DeLong, Democratic

Candidate For Auditor

The Democratic ticket for the election next Tuesday presents the name of S. H. DeLong as the candidate of the party for the office of county auditor.

Mr. DeLong is among the best known younger men of the county. He is a native of Marion county having been born and reared in the western part. After he completed his education he located in Marion and has been trusted in a number of quite responsible positions, in all of which he has made good and demonstrated his real worth. At present he is assistant cashier of the Marion Savings Bank, which position he has held since the bank was organized. Mr. DeLong is thoroughly qualified for the office to which he aspires and will prove a valuable man to the county.

A vote for Mr. DeLong will be greatly appreciated by him and his friends and will be a vote for a competent man for the office of county auditor, one of the most important offices in the county from the standpoint of the taxpayer.

HON. WILLIAM T. SMITH.

Democratic Candidate For Representative.

The voters of Marion county have the opportunity this fall to send to the legislature in Columbus a man who has for the past three years been elected in the university of law makers at Columbus and who has succeeded in a measure of reform the college which he has attended. During three years in the Ohio general assembly, William T. Smith has become known in all parts of the state and his influence has been felt in all sections well. He has not been content to sit idly by and see the other fellows enact all of the business and run things to suit themselves, but he has taken an active part in putting through some pieces of legislation and in eating others. The other members of the legislature have found him a man with ideas, who is not afraid to voice his sentiments and when he is convinced he is in the right he is one of the hardest fighters for his convictions ever seen upon the floor of the house in Columbus.

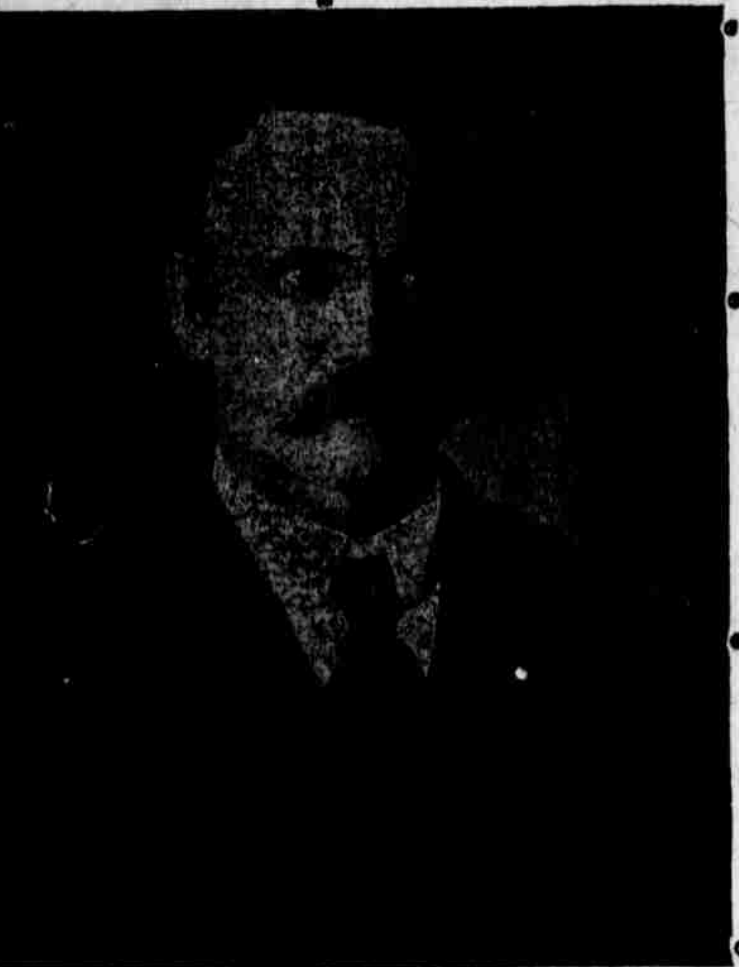

Since he became representative from Marion county, Mr. Smith has given the closest attention to the things which most interest the people of the county, and at the same time has taken in the whole state, at all times giving his eye upon those things which would work good for the commonwealth.

Recent disclosures in connection with the canal system of the state, if they can be called a system, have shown that Mr. Smith knew what he was up to when he made the proposition that the state should sell the canals and place the money, together with the appropriation which is made annually for the up-keep of the canals, in the fund for building roads throughout the state. This proposition alone should insure his re-election this fall. Mr. Smith has shown that the money derived from the sale of the canals would build two lines of improved road (and by the way, it is meant such a road as has been constructed east of the city being built south of the city on the Prospect pike) north and south and two lines east and west in each and every county in the state. Improvement would be of vastly more benefit to the people of Ohio than the present system of canals which serve only as a filthy dumping ground for money which the state collects from the taxpayers and disbursements show has been leaking out of the canals into the pockets of individuals.

This proposition alone should be sufficient to insure the return of Mr. Smith to the general assembly for another term. But this is not all, neither all be enumerated in this article. It can all be summed up in these few words. Mr. Smith has been found on the right side of practically every position which has come before the general assembly and has not only been right, but has used his best efforts in promoting everything which would work for the best interests of the people of the county and of the state.

Mr. Smith will make a very valuable member of the legislature and will be returned for another term.

Candidate For Coroner.

DR. WM. H. HINKLIN.

W. H. Hinklin, the present coroner of Marion county, is making his first term as coroner. He was the unanimous choice of the party primaries last spring and he solicits the support of the entire party coming election.

During his first term as coroner, Dr. Hinklin has had to consider a large number of very important cases. Some were cases where murder had been committed, others were cases of suicide with suspicious surroundings and others were cases of accidental death, where lack of care upon the part of the night throw suspicion upon innocent persons. In all of his duties he has shown great care that justice be done all persons interested and it can be said that he has made one of the best officials the county has ever had in that office.

Dr. Hinklin is a native of Marion county, having been born and reared in the western part of the county. Since completing his medical education he has practiced in this city where he is well known.

Dr. Hinklin will be a vote to continue in office for a second term, a thoroughly competent official.

Democratic Candidate For Surveyor.

GEORGE E. DWYER.

The Democratic ticket for the coming election presents the name of George E. Dwyer, for the office of county surveyor. Mr. Dwyer is quite well known throughout the city and county as a very capable civil engineer. For a number of years he served the city as city engineer and a large percentage of the improvements which have been made in Marion were constructed under his direction. At present he is employed in supervising some very extensive improvements in Duesburg. The near approach of winter makes it impossible for him to leave his work there to make his campaign in Marion county for this office. Mr. Dwyer is opposing, for a third term, the present occupant of the office. Just now the county has under way a number of improvements of no small importance and Mr. Dwyer can be depended upon to take up the work and push them to completion without delay and in a thoroughly masterful manner.
